Martin Luther King day draws huge crowds to Bethel

What was originally established as a day of remembrance for the birth date of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., was celebrated in much of New England as a weekend of go skiing. And that's what skiers from all over the region did. In fact, a number of ski slopes in New Hampshire shut off ticket sales to prevent overly long lift lines.

While Rev. King's birth date was actually last Thursday (Jan. 18), the day of remembrance for him is the Monday following. Thus, while school children in the area had lessons about civil rights in the days leading to the holiday, the holiday itself was spent by most people as part of a long weekend of fun and games.

Sunday River's marketing director, Wendie Gray, said, "It was the biggest weekend in history (for the Bethel area)."

It began early Saturday morning with a call from the manager of the Burger King restaurants on the turnpike. He called Ms. Gray to tell her they've left here and they're headed your way."

By bus and by car they came in a steady flow. In all, there were about 4,500 skiers on the Newry Mountain Saturday.

Sunday there were 7,000—the biggest single day attendance ever.

At Mt. Abram Ski Slopes, in Locke Mills, there were 1,750 skiers Saturday—including so many new skiers that the ski shop ran out of rental equipment. On Sunday there were 1,800. It was an excellent weekend for the ski area, though no records were broken.

On Monday, attendance was down considerably, although many out-of-towners had stayed-over Sunday night. Sunday River reported 2,500 skiers; Mt. Abram 1,300. The addition of about four inches of new snow Sunday powdered up both areas.

Despite the record number of skiers at Sunday River on Sunday, lift lines never averaged more than a 6-minute wait.

Local luge racer finishes 4th in seeding

Luge racer John Owen, of Bethel, finished fourth overall in the series of seeding races held at Lake Umbagog over the past two weeks. The races determined the ranking of the men's seniors in luge competition in the U.S.

In the first race, held Jan. 10, Mr. Owen finished 2nd. In the second race, held Jan. 14, he finished 7th, after having crashed on one of his runs; in the third race, held Jan. 17, he finished 3rd. Each race consisted of three heats. Mr. Owen had an average time of 2 minutes and 12 seconds for the third race.

His 4th-place ranking among the men's seniors translates as an 8th-place nationally, following the four places given up to the elite division.

In the women's luge, Mr. Owen and his partner, Jody Shimamura, finished far down in the rankings as most of their runs ended in crashes. A spokesman from Lake Umbagog said they had little practice together as Mr. Shimamura was still recuperating from injuries sustained in a crash on a course in Europe.

Guidance offered adults planning to go to college

There will be an adult guidance session Tuesday, Jan. 27, sponsored by SAD #44 Adult and Community Education, on the topic of college planning for the non-traditional student.

David Ackley, coordinator of the Rumford-Mexico Center of the University of Maine at Farmington, will discuss issues relating to college entrance by older students as well as GED recipients.

He will spend a majority of the time answering questions from those taking part in the session.

SAD #44 Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell said the session has been arranged to assist several to the students currently in the GED and adult high school diploma program, as well as adults who have contacted the program for adult guidance services. She added that any adult who would like to attend is welcome. The session will be at Telstar Regional High School, starting at 7 p.m.

Ms. Gray said. The line at the North Peak triple chair never got above three minutes, she said, while the most-used South Ridge triple never got above 11 minutes.

The cold weather may have helped keep lift lines short, as skiers seemed to want to warm up in the lodge after each couple of runs. That made for crowded lodges.

So far this season, Sunday River Ski Resort's ski school has taught 333 new skiers under the Guaranteed-Learn-to-Ski program, Ms. Gray reported. Most of these have vowed to continue skiing, she said.

While most people seemed to regard the Martin Luther King holiday as a time for recreation, others took time to recall what the meaning of the holiday was supposed to be. The state declared a holiday for all state offices, and the public schools all closed. The Bethel town office stayed open, however, as did a number of other town offices throughout the state, according to the Maine Municipal Association.

Gould Academy held an early morning assembly in which Headmaster William Clough discussed the meaning of Rev. King's life and work. Then most of the student body went to the Portland Museum of Art to see the current exhibition called "Amber Waves of Grain," on the U.S. nuclear weapons stockpile.

On Tuesday, Gould faculty and students had an assembly to view a film on the civil rights movement and then, in their classes, discussed the continuing problem of equal opportunity.

While the SAD #44 schools were closed for the holiday, all the district schools held activities last week focusing on Dr. King's work and on civil rights. In the elementary schools, students made posters and held discussions. Mrs. Shimamura, at Woodstock Elementary School, segregated her students by eye color and gave special privileges to children with brown eyes. They then discussed their feelings about segregation. In the middle school and high school there were posters in the hallways, and the social studies teachers all led sessions on civil rights in their classes.

W. Paris Budget Comm. approves budget following public hearing

The West Paris Budget Committee gave its stamp of approval to the 1987 proposed budget following a public hearing at the fire station last Wednesday night. The proposed budget will be presented to the voters of the town at an annual town meeting in March.

The Budget Committee did not make any changes from the proposal presented by the selectmen at the public hearing. That proposal calls for a gross municipal budget of $201,722, compared to last year's $276,711. Nevertheless, thanks to a block grant, federal revenue sharing, excise taxes and account balances carried forward, the amount to be raised is $177,799—nearly the same as last year's net of $170,825.

One of the notable causes for the increase in the gross budget is the addition of approximately $40 million. It has locations in Bethel, Harrison, Rumford, and West Paris which will be moved to South Paris in March of this year in order to better serve the entire Oxford Hills region. The bank has experienced record earnings in each of the past years with the first eight months of its fiscal year ending April 30, 1987 being its best ever.

As a result of this capital, the bank will be better positioned to meet the high demand for services from the communities it represents as an independent financial institution.

is very excited about this conversion as it will provide additional capital which will allow the bank to expand its capacity to offer more services to the western Maine area that it serves.

FIRST-GRADE STUDENTS in Mrs. Gould's class at Ethel Bissbe School made posters for Martin Luther King Day, which was celebrated Monday throughout the state and throughout most of the country. The slain civil rights leader's actual birthdate was Jan. 15, last Thursday. He was born in 1929 and assassinated in 1968. As a martyr, he has remained a symbol of the search for freedom and dignity by the poor and oppressed. Students in SAD #44 schools, and at Gould Academy, paid homage to the man by studying his life and work. The students above made posters stating: Love Comes in All Colors.

WHOM wins media challenge at Mt. Abram slopes

The team of Steve Hobbs and Jeff Hall captured first place in the second annual Media Challenge race held at Mt. Abram Ski Slopes last Sunday. Their times were 24.1 seconds and 22.8 seconds. Additionally, Hobbs took first overall with his winning time of 28.1 over the slalom course, set on Middle X.

The best overall time for a woman was garnered by Karen Hakala, representing the Lewiston Sun-Journal. Her time was 31.1.

Second place among the teams went to Allen Lessells and Jack Milton, of the Portland Press Herald. Their times were 32.3 and 31.4.

Third place went to the team of Milt Simon and Steve Peterson, representing WKZZ, with times of 34.2 and 31.1.

Guy Gannett Publishing Company's Tom Welch and Tim Russell turned in times of 32.8 and 32.1—good for fourth place.

Fifth place went to the Biddeford Journal-Tribune's Dennis Flaherty and Eric Wicklund, with times of 36.5 and 31.8.

The Citizen fielded only a single entry instead of a team, with Bernie Wideman turning in a 39.0.

Girl Scout cookie drive begins Friday, 'til Feb. 8

The 32nd annual Girl Scout cookie sale drive begins this Friday, Jan. 23, and continues until Feb. 8.

Brownies and Girl Scouts, ages 6 to 17, will be taking orders for the seven varieties of cookies, each sold for $2.

Varieties available this year are the top-selling Thin Mints, as well as Samoas, Tagalongs, Trefoils, Digi-Dos, Chocolate Chunkies and Pecan Shorties. Cookies ordered will be delivered to customers during the last two weeks of March.

Historical Society membership soars —now over 700

Dr. Stanley R. Howe, director of the Bethel Historical Society, has announced that the society's membership passed the 700 level late in 1986 and is well advanced toward meeting the 1987 goal of 80 additional members by the end of this year.

While the overwhelming majority of society members are from the New England area, 20 other states and the District of Columbia are also represented. These include Hawaii, Florida, Min-

Joan Scaro appointed animal control officer

The Bethel Board of Selectmen Monday night appointed Joan Scaro the town's new animal control officer. She replaces Debbie Wheeler, who resigned.

The appointment is for a 90-day probationary period.

The selectmen re-appointed John Hand to a three-year term to the Bethel Water District Board of Trustees.

Following a public hearing, the selectmen took under advisement the comments of members of the Bethel Historical Society regarding a proposed parking ban along 186-foot of the north side of Mason Street adjacent to the intersection with Broad Street. The historical society members suggested the ban be in winter only, and only during daylight hours.

The selectmen approved a salary of $24,500 for the town manager for next fiscal year (beginning July 1, 1987). His current salary is $22,250.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch presented to the selectmen a draft agreement between the town and the owners of The Bethel Inn for permission for the Inn to tie into the town sewer system on Broad Street. In exchange for the permission to use the sewer for their proposed ponds, the owners are being asked to replace 750 feet of the existing Broad Street line to solve the problem of water infiltration into the line in that area.

A special district budget meeting for SAD #44 is scheduled for next Monday evening, Jan. 26, at seven o'clock in the auditorium at Telstar Regional High School.

Voices of the district will be asked to appropriate $25,000 from the district's undesignated fund balance to be expended for preconstruction work on the proposed addition to the Crescent Park School. The breakdown of the $25,000 expenditure would be as follows: $7,000 for land survey legal fees and test holes; $500 for an asbestos survey in the existing CPSS structure; and $17,500 for necessary architectural work. These costs would be reimbursed under a final building budget for the project.

Approval of the $25,000 appropriation would not increase taxes for school purposes during SAD #44's current fiscal year (July 1, 1986-June 30, 1987). The undesignated fund balance currently stands at $65,481 (a June 30, 1986 district balance of $137,481 less $72,000 designated as income in the current fiscal year budget). Approval of the $25,000 would reduce the undesignated fund balance to $40,481.

At a public hearing last Nov. 24 no opposition was expressed concerning a proposed addition at Crescent Park School. The construction of the addition would permit the accommodation of all Bethel area students, kindergarten through grade six, at one facility. These grade levels are currently located at Ethel Bissbe and Crescent schools, and the Telstar Middle School. An addition would likely contain 11 classrooms, a multipurpose room, cafeteria, library, special education classrooms, and office space.

Equality—a continuing struggle

The language of bigotry is not a pretty language. But it is a language that most Americans know, and use.

America is appropriately called the great melting pot, where races and religions from all over the world join together to live as one people. Nevertheless, the assimilation of the various people that make up these United States has never been easy, and the "melting pot" has been as much an ideal as a reality.

The promise of America—like the promise of the Garden of Eden—was flawed from the very start, as religious groups fleeing the old world in search of religious freedom immediately, upon reaching the new world, became intolerant of others' beliefs.

The aboriginal inhabitants of the rich land the colonists came to in North America were treated as people to conquer and convert, much as the Spaniards in South America ruled by the cross and the sword.

While the colonists set up democratic forms of government whereby men could vote for those who would make the laws, the number of those who could participate in the democratic process was limited. Women could not participate; indentured servants could not participate; slaves could not participate.

This situation improved over time. Abraham Lincoln freed the slaves at the time of the Civil War, but blacks, particularly in the south, still faced property requirements that kept them from taking part in the democratic process of government. And women, of course, did not become full-fledged citizens until the 20th century.

It was not until the civil rights movement of the 1960s that black Americans in the south attained a real measure of citizenship. And the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. had much to do with bringing that about.

Campaigning for freedom and justice for black Americans, his tactic was the same as the tactic of Mohandas K. Gandhi in India in the 1940s—that was, non-violent civil disobedience.

Rev. King did not start the civil rights movement, but he became a catalyst and a symbol, and finally a hero and a martyr.

And that is why it is fitting that America have a holiday celebrating his birth, the same as we have holidays celebrating the birth of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Washington is the symbol for the American colonists becoming free from England; Lincoln is the symbol of the American slaves becoming free from their masters; King is the symbol of the former slaves becoming free to take part in the political process of their country.

The winding down of the civil rights movement did not mean an end to the continuing struggle of minority Americans seeking freedom and justice.

The story of America has always been the story of a dream becoming reality. The dream has always exceeded the reality, which is as it should be, as it presents each generation with a goal to strive towards.

While the reality always falls short of the ideal, Americans probably have a higher regard for civil rights of minorities than most other people. In Asian countries, where there has been little immigration of foreign peoples, ethnic diversity is the norm and tolerance is the exception. In Europe, the eastern European peoples have notoriously bad records of civil rights for minorities in their midst. Western Europe has a better record, but few countries there (with the possible exception of France and England) have anywhere near the percentage of immigrants found in the U.S.

Americans have much to be proud of in terms of evolving into a more egalitarian society. And celebrating Martin Luther King Day is one way of recognizing how far we have come—as well as how far we have yet to go.

As if we needed reminders, the recent incidents at The Citadel, in North Carolina, at Howard Beach, in New York, and in Forsyth County, Ga., are powerful examples that bigotry and intolerance are still very much at home in America in the 1980s.

Though this year's Martin Luther King Day was celebrated more as a day of recreation than as a day of remembrance, it is a start. Though observed by most states, the governor of Arizona decreed that it would not be observed in that state. And while most municipalities allow all school districts in the state of Maine observed the holiday, many towns—including Bethel—did not. (The Town of Bethel extended the Christmas holiday by adding a day off that would have been the King holiday.)

With time, it is hoped that Americans will come to regard the holiday for what it is: a reminder that we have come a great distance as human beings in our regard for our fellow human beings, and a reminder that we still have far to go in this direction.

For those whose recollection of how far we have come may be growing dim, public television—Channel 10—will present a four-part series beginning tonight (Wednesday) at 9 p.m. It is called "Eyes on the Prize," and is being hailed as one of the most powerful messages ever broadcast to television.

LEDGEVIEW HOME SCHEDULES
RUMMAGE SALE, JAN. 27-28

The resident council organization at Ledgeview Memorial Home, in West Paris, is holding a rummage sale Jan. 27 and 28, from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. each day, in the activity room at the home. The proceeds of this sale will go to the piano fund.

The resident council is run completely by the residents for the good of the residents themselves. They have been very active during the past few years and have purchased many things for their use, including a kitchenette and a second-hand piano. They are working now to get a new piano for their activity room and will place the second-hand one they now have in their chapel.

Donations for any saleable articles will be appreciated, as well as a good attendance at the rummage sale.

FRIENDS COME IN ALL COLORS

FRIENDS COME IN ALL COLORS was the message of this poster, made by students in Mrs. Otero's class at Ethel Bisbee School in honor of Martin Luther King Day. Under the slogan, the students drew people of different races and creeds, all joining hands.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

It has been brought to my attention that there have been a couple of known attempts to pick up children in our town. Why couldn't one of the organizations have stickers made to be put on a window close to the street so children would know they could run into your house to be protected and parents phoned. Each household could buy a sticker to defray the cost to sponsors.

Sue Farrar

To the Editor:

It is a pleasure to announce the merger of our agency with Ross Joly Realty, Inc. [of Cape Cod, Mass.]

The growth of Maine Street Realty, and the area's growth, indicate the need for a merger. The addition of Ross Joly Realty, Inc., will enable us to realize better service in managing and selling property. We will be able to reach more people with the Joly Agency's larger advertising and people contact capabilities.

Ross Joly, owner of Ross Joly Realty, Inc., brings with him many years of experience and knowledge in the year-round real estate market, recreational as well as commercial. Ross has had an active part in the phenomenal growth on the Cape. He advocates planned and orderly growth.

Ross has enjoyed hunting, fishing and skiing in the Bethel area for over 20 years. He would like to play an active part in preserving the ambience that makes the Bethel area so special to those who enjoy it.

The associates of Maine Street Realty are pleased to welcome Joly Realty, Inc. We look forward to increased service to our patrons and to a most successful future for Bethel and the surrounding community.

REFLECTIONS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, is endeavoring to bring frequently to you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

On Christian Unity

I agree with Dick Gregory when he said: "I'm not into isms and asms. There isn't a Catholic moon and a Baptist sun. I know the universal God is universal. I feel that the same God who is the parent of the Pope is also the parent of the loneliest wino on the planet."

While contemplating a week of Christian unity, immediately there comes to mind a sense of how divided the churches are as they cling to the particular "isms" or "asms" of doctrine, rite or polity which they hold dear. Of the great sins which church folks are called to candidly face, the sins of division within the church itself are as burdensome as they are scandalous. A favorite teacher of mine once stated,

"We know that Christ's prayer for unity in John's Gospel must be echoed by the prayer of every true follower of the way. Yet as we promote the strength of our denominations we perpetuate the denial of our prayers."

Yet, in the desire to overcome the sins of division we may fall into another trap of committing sins of false unity. Jesus' prayer was that all may become "one," not that all may become "agreeable," or "nice." Martin Luther King reminded us that we are called to be "tough minded" as well as "tender hearted." It is useful to remember this if we become superficial in our tolerance of differences, running the risk of becoming "so broad minded that our brains fall out," as Bill Coffin loved to say. Glib glossing over genuine diversities cannot be what Christ meant by "becoming one." Agreeing to disagree would be far more Christlike, than entering into plans of union which compromise genuine differences in perceiving God's will, Word and way.

There is a folk hymn which seems appropriate here: "We are one in the Spirit, we are one in the Lord." I challenge anyone to give evidence that the Holy Spirit shows any special regard for denominational boundaries, any more than there is "a Catholic moon or Baptist sun." Our creedal affirmations often begin, "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is the one true Church, apostolic and universal." Jesus said, "Wherever two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in their midst."

That Spirit of the Living God manifests itself in the stately procession through a Gothic cathedral, within simply spired white meeting houses, around tables where prayer is uttered and praise proclaimed, in the lonely anguish of a fox-hole, or in the still solitude of a glimpse of the sun setting behind Mount Washington from one of the ledges scattered so generously around these beautiful hills.

It is my hope that we pray that all may be done, we consider being one "in the Spirit," focusing on that unity which the Spirit creates, transcending and, with grace, transforming those sins of division or false unity which can often beset us.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Another busy week!

The winners of the Christmas decorating contest were honored at a dinner last Tuesday evening at the King's Inn. Good food, donated by a few chamber members as well as good fellowship made the evening quite successful! Thanks to all who helped!

Chamber Executive Director Robin Zinchuk attended a meeting of the Maine Association of Chamber Executives in Augusta at the Senator Inn. A multitude of information is always acquired at these meetings.

We are busy preparing for the upcoming Western Mountains Winter Wonderland Week, Feb. 7-14. Planned are a variety of events including the Balloon Festival, a parade, and a dog sled race. A variety show and dance at the Bethel Inn Conference Center on Saturday, Feb. 15, will end the fun week. A $5 per person admission will cover the evening.

The chamber would like to remind all its members to please be prompt in sending in membership dues so we can continue with our programs.

Gould basketball

Sacopee Valley 82—Gould 55

After a month-long hiatus, the Gould Academy men's basketball team returned to action on Jan. 12 to face class C Sacopee Valley. After the first period Gould only trailed by four points, but in the next three periods the month-long layoff began to hamper the Huskies as they were outscored 25-33, 22-16, and 19-14. A tough full court press forced Gould into several turn-overs. During this run Sacopee's Joey Anderson (12 points) and Shawn Humphrey (17 points) each had several uncontested layups.

Gould was placed on the foul line repeatedly throughout the second half, however, the Huskies could only connect on 21 of 34 tries. Kurt Crandall led the Huskies with 30 points, eight from the foul line, while senior forward Alex Nevens added 14.

Hyde 70—Gould 56

Two days later the Huskies traveled to Bath to play prep school rival Hyde. Gould had a horrendous start as Hyde jumped to a 21-4 advantage. Gould played without starting forward Alex Nevell who had injured his shoulder against Sacopee. His presence was missed as Gould was continually out rebounded on both ends of the court. Gould rallied though, late in the first half with two three point plays by Ron Burt (five rebounds, four assists, three steals) and three long jumpers by Kurt Crandall (one rebound, six assists, five steals), to narrow Hyde's lead to 11. In the second half Ken Fauntery (22 points, nine steals, five assists) and Ken McCafferty (14 points) led Hyde's fast break to provide five quick hoops, giving Hyde a comfortable 21 point lead. Gould was never able to close the gap and as time expired the scoreboard read: Gould 56, Hyde 70.

Gould 72—Freeport 54

On Saturday, Gould faced another tough challenger as they went up against class C Freeport, who had come off a big win over Yarmouth the night before. Gould jumped to an early lead thanks to senior Pete Bitzer who hit the game's first three shots. Freeport had trouble breaking Gould's assortment of defense and turned the ball over several times in the early going. While Freeport had a tough time finding the range, Gould continued its hot shooting as Alex Nevens connected on long range bombs and Ron Burt slipped through Freeport's zone for two three point plays. At intermission the Huskies enjoyed a 20 point lead.

Freeport started the third period on a tear as they cut their deficit to seven with John Brogan and Derrick Pinkham leading the way. Gould then tightened its defense as Jordy Almogren, "chairman of the boards," collected several of his eight rebounds. During the fourth period, Freeport started sending Gould to the charity stripe. Kurt Crandall camped out there as he connected on 16 out of 20 attempts. Gould held on to its lead and won 72-54. Crandall led all scorers with 30 points, while Alex Nevens had 14 and Ron Burt added 12. For Freeport John Brogan tallied 13 points and Derrick Pinkham chipped in eight. Richard Dohmann's Huskies are now 3-1 in SPA play and will face nearby rivals Buckfield and Telstar on Friday and Saturday.

The sun is shining this Friday morning and the sky is real pretty as I look out the window. Clouds of grey and ivory against the blue make it very pretty picture. The only problem is that the wind is blowing and it makes it colder than the temperature says it is. However, I had rather see it this way than to see a north-easter snowing and blowing so will enjoy the sunshine while it lasts.

Wynona called me and wanted me to come down and stay with the girls Friday night so she could go to meetings etc., so she came after me Friday morning and away we went. I stayed with the girls and Wynona was going to bring me home on Saturday after hearing the weather forecast but it started snowing before the weatherman said it would and I didn't get home until Sunday. We had planned to wait till afternoon in Sunday to come home but as long as it was snowing and we heard it would keep snowing all day, Wynona and Michael brought me home in the forenoon. Kariann came to stay for a day or two to go see the doctor with me. I can sure vouch for those doctors who do cranial work. Kariann had trouble and wouldn't creep or crawl or do anything where she had to use her knees. After three treatments, she was doing what a child of her age should be doing. There was trouble in her pelvic area, where the bones were concerned and treating her for it and doing a complete back treatment with his finger, the doctor got her where she could crawl, climb and walk better than she did before. Just a regular treatment wouldn't have done what his treatment did, so am glad he is around to help folks.

I don't know why we had to have another big snow storm but hope everyone got through it all right. It was hard driving on Sunday when we came up from Lewiston but the roads had been cleared most of the way so they were pretty good. After hearing about the deep freeze they are having in the European countries, I would rather be here in a northeaster. We have had mighty cold weather at times but the temperatures they are having are horrendous. I hate to think of anyone being so cold they freeze to death, whether it be a Russian or an American, it is a terrible way to die.

I was supposed to go to the doctor's on Monday but got a call that he was sick so had to wait until Wednesday to go with Kariann. She kept me busy but we love to have her come to visit just the same. Michael came to get her Wednesday evening and brought Courtney with him. They stayed to supper with us before heading back to Lewiston.

I had a surprise waiting for me when I got home on Sunday. Russell and I had talked of putting up some shelves in the living room and there they were. He had worked on them while I was gone and got them up. Just one little problem. The wall wasn't straight and he had made the shelves straight so they didn't fit as he wanted them to. However, he has found a way to fill in the gap and no one will ever know how crooked the folks made the wall. We found the same thing true when we painted the walls and put molding about half way up the wall. We left the lower half the color it was but painted the top half a beige color to make the rooms lighter. Before we did that, the crooked walls weren't noticeable but afterward, one could sure see the walls looking like waves on the ocean. Even so, we like it much better with the lighter color at the top and it helped seal in the formaldehyde. Russell stained the shelves he made, the same color of the molding and they look nice, or will when he gets the end of them, that he had to fix, put back up.

I am one of those people who like nature and look to see what is new in the outside world when I go riding. I couldn't help but notice that the trees were still holding lots of snow as we went to Bridgton on Wednesday. Some of the branches had a lot left on them and others were bare or just had a small amount. As a rule, one doesn't see the snow stay on trees like that after a storm but it has this time. It makes the trees look prettier as one drives along.

I have said in the past that we have had as many as eight gray squirrels out back feeding and yesterday, there were nine of them. I do love to watch them and so does Russell. After the storm, the squirrels came and seemed to know just where to dig in the snow for the corn Russell puts out for them. It was fun to see them push their noses into the snow and just about bury themselves to find the corn. Kariann liked to watch them and loves to watch the chick-a-dees. She will be two in May and can talk a lot and will try to say most anything you ask her to. She knows chick-a-dees and asks to see them quite often. I'm glad she likes

THESE TELSTAR SENIORS already have definite plans for what they will do following graduation. Front row: Traci Higgins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Higgins, of Locke Mills, will attend Bates College and plans to major in English and Psychology; Tammy Hall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall, of Andover, will attend the Boyd School, in Pittsburgh, Pa., to study Travel and Tourism; Darlene Haskell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Haskell, of Woodstock, will attend Husson College, in Bangor, to study Retail Management; Anita Kimball, the daughter of Nancy Cross, of South Paris, and Harry Kimball, of Songe Pond, will attend Mr. Bernard's School of Hair Fashion, in Bangor; Kevin Powell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Powell, of Hanover, will attend Georgetown University, in Washington, D.C., to study Foreign Service; Daniel Cross, the son of Lorraine Redman, of Locke Mills, and Jack Cross, of Bethel, will attend Husson College, in Bangor, to study Business Administration; Keith Clanton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clanton, of Bethel, will attend Brown University, in Providence, R.I., to study Chemical Engineering; Harold Munzner, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munzner, of Bethel, will enlist in the U.S. Navy to specialize in Food Service. Not pictured, Linda Learned, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Learned, of Andover, will attend Trinity College, in Burlington, Vt., to study Psychology.

the birds and squirrels as I do.

Russell and I were surprised last evening to have our niece, Elyse Fisher, call in and see us. I was sorry to hear about her Aunt Dot passing away but was glad to see Elyse. She had been to the funeral and was on her way home when she called in. I hadn't heard from her since getting in touch with her after a car accident she had so was glad to find out she was all right. Wish more of the family would stop in to see us as we miss them, and one never know how long one will be around to visit.

Time to get busy and get this ready for the mail so will wish everyone the best and hope you all have a nice week ahead for you.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary will meet Monday, Jan. 26, at 6:30 p.m. at the fire station.

Reminder: The Greenwood Historical Society will hold an old-time dance Saturday, Jan. 24, at 8 p.m. at the town hall. Jeannette Knight entered the Stephens Memorial Hospital for observation last week and was released Thursday afternoon. She will have to return for surgery at a later date unless an emergency situation occurs.

Anne Troy and Vera Cross both celebrated birthdays the first week in January and Anne, Charlotte Cole and Helena Bartlett went to Vera's for dinner on Friday, Jan. 2, to help them celebrate.

Charles Knight is working part time for Sterling Mills. They are presently working on the Rumford road near Mount Zircron.

Lorne Hall celebrated a birthday Jan. 8 and on the 7th Charlotte Cole and Lorne's mother, Joanne Cole, went to see her and took her gifts. After visiting her Charlotte and Joanne went to see a friend Evelyn Jackson in Dixfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight's granddaughter, Dianne, returned to the University of Southern Maine in Gorham Saturday after enjoying the Christmas vacation. Their youngest granddaughter, Darlene, has worked part-time as a cashier in Week's Store and Restaurant since before school started. She is a junior at Oxford Hills High School. Charlotte Cole and Helen Chase went to see Mrs. George Gibbs in Wednesday, Jan. 14, at her home in North Paris and had dinner there.

John Mills is enjoying the fly-tying course at Telstar Thursday evenings. It is amazing how much detail is involved in tying flies. One needs a love for intricate work and the patience of Job—certainly not everyone's cup of tea!

Lisa Jordan returned to her studies at Rhode Island School of Photography on Saturday, Jan. 3, after spending the holidays with her family. She went back with friend and classmate, Sam McCloud, who spent several days visiting with the Jordans. Sam's first trip to Maine will be a memorable one because of the snow storm. He had started to return home on Friday but had to turn back after going off the road on the Maine Turnpike.

Ann Roy took daughter, Suzi, back to Trinity College in Burlington, Vt., Monday following her semester break. Ann stayed the night with Suzi and returned home Tuesday.

Much of this week there has been brilliance and wholesome cold; it is the old fashioned winter with its field of snow, its sense of wintry peace and a splendor of blue sky.

Each day I have walked some distance from home. Some days I found it ear-piercing cold, then again calm and warm.

This morning so glittering was the air and so cloudless the sky that as the sun rolled up over Noyes Mountain and touched Patch and Overset there appeared a sudden miracle of pink hitting the trees. I stood by the window to watch it vanish.

Beneath my kitchen window on the snow, prospecting: their tails twitching, heads lowered, were two red squirrels, two gray squirrels, and several blue jays. Sometimes red and gray fur and blue feathers were all in company, as they gathered together.

Again and again when I walk I hear the jay scream across the wilderness of snow. High noon or mid-morning I hear it answered. No touch of a spring note yet, just the familiar harsh call. It means life in the air, daring and vigorous. It means it is sharing winter with us and hasn't fled before the bitterness of cold.

If I stop and stare about a bit, I can see more than at a casual glimpse. In the landscape near by both gray trees and brown together with graceful white birches rise above the snow. To the west the pines stand dark while along the border of some fields autumn is still discoverable. Winter blue is found in the shadows. Light is both tender and delicate. The shadows of winter are unlike all other shadows of the year.

Trudging home, I stood and looked out across the pond to the blue hills. I thought maybe one can find here in the lonely solitude the realization of not only one dream but of all dreams.

It seems that winter has gripped the earth in an endless grasp, but one day there will come a magical bit to the spirit and we'll think—spring!

Another 10 inches of snow has come to us on top of the 15 the week before.

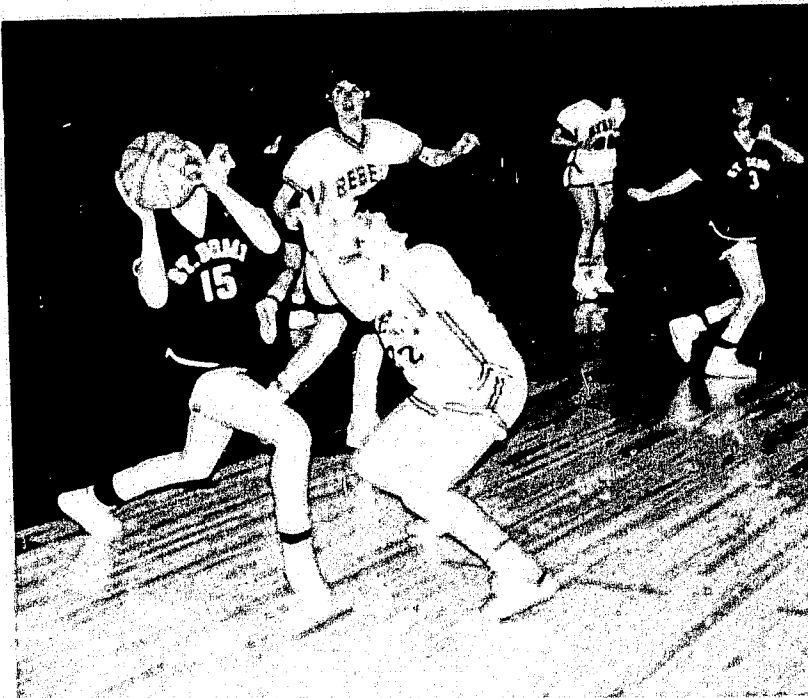

Dan Holt took his father and mother to Maine Medical Center on Jan. 6 where his father had surgery on Thursday.

Robert Holt came from Augusta to take his mother to Portland on Thursday and Ann Holt and her mother were there again on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat DiArenzo who have been in Pennsylvania for some weeks have returned home.

Edith Gardner, Watford, was a recent caller at Fay Holt's and they went to Portland to see her brother, Leonas Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis and Dorothy Curtis have visited Frank Curtis in South Paris several times this week.

AGGRESSIVE DEFENSE helped the Rebels stymie St. Dom's last Friday night, 40-22, on the home court. Above, Mindy Robinson stops her opponent from going any further with the ball.

Telstar girls' x-c team undefeated; boys win last two

The Telstar girls' cross-country ski team remains undefeated after the first three meets of the season.

The girls skied well against competitors from Valley, Mt. Abram, Mt. Blue, and Rangeley for a 1st-place finish overall in an early meet prior to the Christmas vacation.

The team next took the first four places, for a perfect score of 10, against Gray-New Gloucester on Jan. 3. Denise Gauthier finished first overall, followed by Nancy Miller (2nd), Paula Michaud (3rd), Ellen Aylward (4th), Ellen Hastings (6th), Vanessa Cooper (7th) and Karen Simmons (9th).

Last Wednesday, Jan. 14, the Telstar girls skied against a small Leavitt team and finished with the top seven places. The girls finished as follows: Gauthier (1st), Michaud (2nd), Miller (3rd), Aylward (4th), Hastings (5th), Cooper (6th) and Simmons (7th).

The boys' team also picked up wins in the two recent home meets.

On Jan. 9 the young boys' team, which is composed of only freshmen and sophomores, sailed past Gray-New Gloucester. Brant Remington skied to a 2nd-place finish, followed by teammates Nathan Miserochchi in 3rd, Jamie Blake in 4th, and Jason Miserochchi in 7th. The final score: Telstar 10; Gray-New Gloucester 34.

Last Wednesday the team took the first five places for a score of 10, against Leavitt, which scored 38.

Nathan Miserochchi led the team, in 1st place. The next five places were taken by Remington, Blake, Mike Miller and Jason Miserochchi respectively. Nathan Bean followed in 8th.

CARD OF THANKS

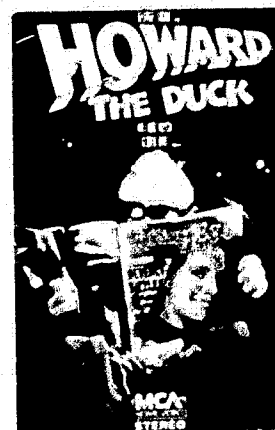

My sincere thanks to everyone for their many kindnesses during my recent bereavement. To all my friends and relatives who have visited, sent cards, made donations in Dorothy's memory, attended the service and expressed sympathy in so many ways, I am deeply grateful. Special thanks to Richard and Hilda Stevens, Rev. Lisa Vonderheide, my nephews who served as bearers, and my nieces for their support. And to the members of the Bethel Ambulance crew, nurses and doctors at Rumford Community Hospital and all the friends who remembered Dorothy during her illness, a very special thank you.

We had our second big storm of the year on the weekend of Jan. 10. It is coming so fast there is no place to plow it. I hope the January thaw arrives soon to reduce the coverage.

Everyone has settled back into the same old grind since Christmas. Most are trying to get their letters off to thank friends for their cards and gifts. The middle of January will have come and gone by the time you read this.

The Florida Mainers reported parties and various get-togethers with no snow to shovel, which they think is great.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews called on me Friday afternoon as they knew a storm would come in the next day, and it did.

Esther Davis took me to Lewiston Monday afternoon to see the dentist for an infected tooth. We went again Wednesday afternoon for further check-up.

We are hearing about coons coming out for a lunch. I think I had one in my shed as the garbage was strewn around some Monday. Richard Felt reported one was seen at his house.

It was reported that Bob Harlow's wife had fallen recently and broke her ankle in three places.

Don Mason has had the G Swan place on Curtis Hill cleared of wood. Ken Poland did the work. He plans to build there sometime in the future.

SAD #44 students

to ski at Gould Academy

Next Monday, Jan. 26, school district elementary school students, grades 2-6, will take part in a cross-country skiathlon event at Gould Academy, sponsored by the Timex Corporation.

A skiathlon is a fun race event, beginning with a slalom course, cross-country skiing on a flat area, and finishing up with skiing downhill over a series of small jumps.

Arrangements for the race are being coordinated by by Reyna Cote, the school district's physical education instructor. She requests that anyone interested in chaperoning contact her at Crescent Park School.

She said there will be buses for getting the youngsters to Gould, and also a late bus run to get the competitors home. The race will last from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

As this is the end of the first semester at Atlantic College in Massachusetts, Alan Verrill has spent two weekends with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Verrill. Tom Verrill and friend, Carole Medeiros, spent this weekend here.

Greg Martin of Limerick spent last weekend with the Leon Verrills.

Marguerite Verrill spent Wednesday with her sister, Sylvia Grover, in North Waterford.

Esther Davis attended the dinner and meeting of the "Good Will" held at the Vestry of the Universalist Church at West Paris Tuesday.

Andover

By MARJORIE JODREY

Mrs. Helen Schrieber of Sycamore, Ill., has returned home on Friday after spending two weeks visiting her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yates and family.

Mrs. William Swan returned home Sunday after being a surgical patient at Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston. Mrs. Marilyn Morton of East Andover is taking her place at the Andover Elementary School cafeteria while she is recovering.

Mrs. Robert Emerson was injured in a car accident on Saturday during the snowstorm at the four corners on Main Street in Andover.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Farrington, East Andover, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennis of Newry spent the weekend at their camp on Caribou Lake. When they came home on Sunday they made their own road through 14 or more inches of snow and very poor visibility.

Mrs. Mark Farrington and Lindsey entertained Sunday night for her husband Mark at a birthday party. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Farrington, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Davis and daughters, Amanda and Erica, Mrs. Marilyn Morton and children, Karen and Kevin, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Farrington.

Rev. Marjorie Churchill and Mrs. Anne Fox visited Mrs. Thelma Clark in Norway on Wednesday.

Greeters at the First Congregational Church in Andover on Sunday, Jan. 11, were Ruth Spidel and Karen Simmons. Rev. Churchill's sermon topic was "A More Excellent Way." Youth Group met at 6:30 p.m. in the CEB. Tuesday, Ladies Aid met at the home of Rose Dobe at noon and at 7 p.m. Kerygm was held in the Crocker Room. Wednesday, clergy meeting in Norway. Thursday, 7 p.m., adult choir practice. Friday, 3 p.m., Youth Choir.

Sympathy is extended to Carol Stuart in the loss of her grandfather.

Sympathy is also extended to Leon Simmons and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Perkins in their great loss of wife, mother, and daughter.

Mrs. Harold Peaslee of Yelm, Wash., is still visiting Mrs. Pearl Peaslee and Greg. Callers on Mrs. Peaslee this week were Mrs. Clinton Davis of Rumford and Mrs. Barbara Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trine and Michelle were in Scarborough on Friday.

Story Hour at the Andover Public Library will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 27, from 3 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Betty Anderson of Andover has volunteered to present this program. Children that are preschool to grade 2 are welcome to join in. If you need more information please call the library, 392-4841. Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday, 1:30 to 4:30. The library has received from the IRS, income tax forms. If you need some drop in and pick them up. If you want an hour or half hour's relaxation, come to the library. There is a puzzle that has been set up and is just waiting to be finished.

LEO GALLANT, OWNER OF Gallant's Furniture, in Roxbury Pond, stands inside the 10,000 square-foot showroom under construction at his furniture store. When completed, in April, the new structure will give the company a total of 35,000 square feet of showroom space. This is the 10th expansion for the company, which was started just 10 years ago by Mr. Gallant and his son, David. When the two began, in a converted 30x40-foot garage, they were the only employees and they would sell in the daytime and deliver the furniture in the evening. Now the company employs nine people, including other family members, and has three delivery trucks. The area served by the business extends from Farmington and Rangely to Norway and Lewiston. Mr. Gallant credits the success of the business to good prices, good selection and good service. When the new showroom is opened, the company will add a full line of baby furniture and a full line of lamps. There will also be extra space for expanded display of living room, bedroom and dining room furniture, in modern, contemporary and colonial styles. Additionally, one section of the two-story showroom will be a mock-up of a completely furnished condominium unit. The company has gone strongly into condo furnishing. They have already gotten the contracts to furnish the River View Motel and the Lake Christopher condominiums. "We're furnishing condos complete," said Mr. Gallant, pointing out that "complete" means right down to plates and silverware and waste baskets.

On Jan. 24 and 25, a Hunters' Safety Course will be taught at the Andover Elementary School from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The course is sponsored by the Rumford Hunters' Safety Club in cooperation with the Maine Department of Fisheries and Wildlife. This is a mandatory course for new hunters from age

Thought for the Day
Have you noticed how things keep being updated? A three days' growth of beard and no socks is now called the "Miami Vice Look." It used to be called "Refrainment."

Calvary Congregational Church
Sunday School was cancelled last week due to a storm. Church was held as scheduled.

Pastor Grover's message, "The Call of God," I Corinthians 1:4-9, John 15:16. Missionary moments, a letter was read from Jay and Linda Walker, Greenville Baptist Church. Their ministry is in the lumber camps of the surrounding area. The evening service was cancelled.

Youth group Wednesdays, 2:45-4:30 p.m.
The Bible is the only book whose author is always present when one reads it.

CLASS IN SEWING BOXES
ADDED TO CABIN FEVER TERM
A class in the making of padded sewing boxes has been added to the Winter/Cabin Fever special term of SAD #4 Adult and Community Education.

Shirley Cammon, of Andover, will teach the class for three weeks, from Jan. 27 until Feb. 10, on Tuesday nights at the home of Joyce Frazier, in Andover.

To enroll in this class, call the Andover Elementary School, at 392-4381. A list of supplies is available at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bryant and family visited their aunt, Mrs. Grace Nelson, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tripp and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson spent the weekend at the Nelson camp at Wilson's Mills.

The Parish Bible Study met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Barker Tuesday night.

Mrs. Frances Grant worked for Mrs. Carl McKen Wednesday and did some laundry for her.

Mrs. Gertrude Yenma and Mrs. Grace Nelson went to Conway, N.H., shopping Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Plummer and son, also Mrs. Gladys Plummer spent the day Thursday in Norway.

Albert Nelson is busy shoveling off roofs for neighbors, and the summer camps.

Mrs. Ray Jewell of North Waterford called on friends here one day last week. Mrs. Edith Holt of North Waterford visited Grace Nelson one day last week.

A beautiful grey squirrel has appeared at my bird feeder.

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

We are all shoveled and plowed out from the Jan. 10 storm or northeast, so looked forward to our next storm. The towns will all be bankrupt if we have snowstorms every week.

A correction for an item in the Jan. 7 Citizen. Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cole who purchased the Vatcher trailer formerly lived at Twitchell Pond in Greenwood not on the milk farm road. Sorry. Welcome to our hamlet.

Mrs. Jackie Stevens returned home from Stephens Memorial Hospital Sunday after spending several days there for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher called on Mrs. Jessie Neale at West Buxton Friday. Her husband, Fred Neale, Jr., who died Dec. 5, 1985, used to be one of Joe's boys in Saugus, when he was assistant town manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hsley and grandson, Ian, went to Rome, N.Y., Saturday, Jan. 10. Their son, Robert, was hospitalized with a relapse of pneumonia. He is better at this writing and is back on the Air Force Base. The snow storm Jan. 10 was very bad in Vermont so they drove in low gear for many miles, arriving in Rome at 12:45 a.m. Sunday morning.

They were to start home today, the 15th, and we hope the traveling will be improved. Joe Vatcher checked the 99 year old grandmother and another elderly lady at the farm daily. He expected to see Grandma plowing the yard with the tractor.

CPS will show parents how pupils learn writing

Have you ever wondered what a "share circle" is? At Crescent Park School, on Tuesday, Jan. 27, elementary school students (K-5) will show what it's all about.

A teacher panel will discuss the writing process and answer any questions parents may have in regards to the writing programs the elementary school children have been involved with this year.

Various samples of student writing will also be on display. This is an opportunity to find out about the writing programs in the schools.

The presentation will begin at 2:45 p.m. and should last about an hour. Babysitting will be provided.

Newry

By AMY HANSCOM

Roger Hanscom is a surgical patient at the Rumford Community Hospital. Miss Amy Hanscom is spending a few weeks at Market Square Health Facility, South Paris, recuperating from a badly sprained knee.

Roger stayed inside. Sympathy is extended to the families of Mrs. Ella F. Russell. She was a Gold Star Mother of the Ring-McKee Auxiliary at West Paris.

Callers at Lawrence: Ron Ross, Barbara Knightly, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher, Steve Millett, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, and Arnold Coffin.

Dick Bean Sr. flew to Montana for several days on business for Boise Cascade.

Faye Abbott took Marie Cordwell to South Paris one day this week shopping. Eveline went to the allergy doctor Monday. He is going to a hospital in Boston the first of the week, Jan. 19 or 20, for possible eye surgery and may be there two weeks. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Joe Vatcher's dog has returned home after an absence of seven days. Harlan Abbott tried out the snowmobile trail Wednesday evening and called on the Vatchers.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of
Charlie Gorman
Passed away January 22, 1982

When the ties of love are broken
And the loved ones have to part,
It leaves a wound that never heals,
And also a broken heart.
But looking back with memories
Upon the past we find
We bless the years we shared with him
And leave the rest to God.

SKIERS AT SUNDAY RIVER SKI RESORT can now ride "Tilly the Trolley" from the parking areas at South Ridge to the ticket booths. The vehicle has been leased by the skiway from Molly Corp., of Ogunquit, for the season. In addition to carrying skiers to and from the parking lots, in the evening the trolley takes guests from their condos to the restaurants on the mountain. The skiway intends to sell advertising on the side panels of the vehicle in order to defray the costs of operation.

HONORED ON 25th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Coriveau were honored on their 25th anniversary party on Jan. 10, hosted by their daughter, Mrs. Ronald Morin (Belissa) and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fernand Coriveau, Jr. (Holly) at their home in Gilead.

Prior to the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Coriveau were entertained at an anniversary supper at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Morin, at their home in Gilead.

Upon returning to the farm, they were greatly surprised to find a gathering of friends and relatives awaiting them.

Present were: Maynard Shelly of Armonk, Conn.; James Kelly, Charles Kelly and Peggy Brown of Norwood, Mass.; Nettie Sheltie, Charlotte Blouet of North Stratford, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sylvester of Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson and Christopher, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson and Penny, all of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Lauriat Coriveau of Locke Mills; Roger Coriveau, Janet and Roger Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Coriveau and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor and son, Steven, Darlene Morin, all of Gilead. Many more sent greetings who were unable to attend due to weather conditions.

A beautiful anniversary cake was made by the hostesses and a delicious

West Bethel Children's Center

By MIRIAM INMAN

The theme this week at the West Bethel Children's Center has been teddy bears and dolls. There certainly was a nice variety of bears, babies and ponies throughout the last two weeks.

The theme for the next two weeks will be winter fun with a sliding field trip to Gould Academy, and one to the Sunday River Skiway that the children have enjoyed in the past.

The star of the week has been Melody Gammon from Bryant Pond.

The staff thanks Bonnie Gammon for volunteering in the classroom and Pam Hebert for the donation of books and the use of her magic marker board.

The West Bethel Children's Center is accepting applications for its 1987-88 Head Start year. Children who will be four years old on or before Oct. 15 may be eligible for the program. Families who have four-year-olds that meet the federal guidelines, or have children with special needs will be given priority. All are encouraged to apply.

The center is also accepting applications for its day care program. Programs who are employed, actively seeking employment, attending school full or part time, or in a crisis situation, and have a child aged three to six years, may apply for day care services.

WALTER J. REED

Walter J. Reed of Bethel died Wednesday, Jan. 14, 1987, at St. Mary's General Hospital in Lewiston.

He was born July 9, 1909, at West Baldwin, the son of John W. and Eunice Ward Reed. He was educated in the schools of West Baldwin and Durham. Mr. Reed was married on Sept. 1, 1934, to Evelyn Bowls. They moved to Bethel from Durham and had lived here for 38 years. He had been employed as a carpenter, retiring 15 years ago. Mr. Reed was a United States Army veteran of World War II, having served in the Pacific Theater. He was a member of Eureka Grange of Durham, and the Bethel Senior Citizens. He was an outdoorsman who enjoyed hunting and fishing.

He is survived by his wife of Bethel. Memorial services were held Sunday afternoon at the Bethel United Methodist Church. Interment will be in the spring at Graceland Memorial Park, Auburn.

Donations Mr. Reed's memory may be made to the Bethel United Methodist Church, c/o Mrs. Harold Stevens, RFD 1, Bethel, Maine 04217.

GERALD L. PARADIS

Gerald L. Paradis of the North Road, Gilead, died unexpectedly Sunday, Jan. 18, 1987, at his home.

He was born in Berlin, N.H., Dec. 16, 1905, son of Robert and Barbara Paradis. He had lived in Gilead, N.H., most of his life, prior to moving to Maine in 1962. Mr. Paradis was a graduate of Gorham High School with the class of 1924. He was employed by Newton-Tobolski Inc. in West Bethel.

He is survived by two daughters, Jessica Paradis of Berlin, N.H., and Kristie of Bethel; his parents, of Gorham; two brothers, Wayne of Bethel, and Keith of Gorham; two sisters, Mrs. Valerie Goyette of Gorham, N.H., and Miss Ann Paradis of Berlin, N.H.; maternal grandparents, Harold and Florence Walker of Gorham, N.H.; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Florette Paradis of Berlin, N.H.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at nine o'clock at the Bryant Funeral Home, 1 Frontmaine St., Gorham, N.H. Interment will be at a later date at the Lary Cemetery, Gorham, N.H.

HELEN I. CARPENTER

Helen I. Carpenter of Bridgton died at a Bridgton hospital on Monday, Jan. 19, 1987, after a brief illness.

She was born in Bridgton, Oct. 8, 1894, the daughter of Joseph and Mattie Elliott Adams. Mrs. Carpenter attended Bridgton schools. She was an antique dealer in the area for many years, and was a member of the North Bridgton Congregational Church.

She is survived by a nephew, Joseph Perry of Bethel.

Graveside services will be held in the spring at the North Bridgton Cemetery.

AVIS H. SIMMONS

Mrs. Avis H. Simmons of North Main Street, Andover, died Thursday, Jan. 15, 1987, at the Rumford Community Hospital.

Born in Rumford, Sept. 8, 1941, she was the daughter of Morton and Edna Roberts Perkins. She was a member of the First Congregational Church of Andover, graduated from Andover High School in the class of 1960, and attended business school in Portland. For a short time, Mrs. Simmons had been employed by Central Maine Power Company in Rumford. She was married in East Machias on Jan. 7, 1962 to Leon P. Simmons.

Survivors include her husband of Andover; her parents of Andover; and two daughters, Miss Cheryl Simmons of Berwick and Miss Linda Simmons of Farmington.

Memorial services were held Saturday afternoon at the First Congregational Church in Andover with Rev. E. Marjorie Churchill officiating. Interment will be in the spring at Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover.

Contributions in Mrs. Simmons' memory may be made to the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 486, Brunswick, Maine 04011.

RICHARD A. ROBBINS

Richard A. Robbins of West Paris died Friday, Jan. 16, 1987, at the Clover Hospital in Auburn where he had been a patient for one week.

He was born in Woodstock, Feb. 7, 1932, to son of Ernie and Annie Piella Robbins. He received his education in the Woodstock schools. He served in the U.S. Army and saw action in Korea during the Korean War. He was employed for several years as a meat cutter at MacCartney's Red and White store in Lisbon Falls. He later moved to West Paris where he owned and operated the Trap Corner Superette for 12 years.

He is survived by his father of Bryant Pond, his mother of West Paris; two daughters, Mrs. Linda Pulsifer and Miss Jody Robbins, both of West Paris; a brother, John Piella of West Paris; a stepfather, Charlotte Strout of Westbrook; and one grandson.

Memorial services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Andrews Funeral Home, South Woodstock.

Donations in Mr. Robbins' memory may be sent to Tri-Town Rescue, c/o Richard Walker, Treasurer, RFD #2, Buckfield, Maine 04220.

Bates College carnival at Mt. Abram Jan. 23-24

Some of the nation's leading skiers are expected to compete at the annual Bates College carnival meet, Jan. 23-24, at Mt. Abram Ski Slopes.

Slalom and giant slalom races will be held at the Locke Mills skway, while cross-country events will take place at Snowdon Ski Touring Center, on Lake Street, in Auburn.

On Friday, Jan. 23, the first run of the men's and women's giant slalom will begin at 9:30 a.m., with the second run slated for 12:30 p.m.

On Saturday, Jan. 24, the first run of the men's and women's slalom will begin at 9 a.m., with the second run set for noon.

Ten of the best Division I ski teams in the east will take part in the meet. They are: Middlebury, Williams, New England College, New Hampshire, Vermont, St. Lawrence, Dartmouth, Keene State, Cornell and host Bates.

Twenty-one All Americans are expected to participate. Vermont, second in the 1986 NCAA ski championships, returns 11 All Americans; Middlebury (fifth in the 1986 nationals), three; and Dartmouth (seventh in the nationals), three.

Bates finished 16th in last year's national championships.

The Bates Winter Carnival meet marks the first stop on the Division I Eastern collegiate ski circuit, in which participants win points toward qualification for the 1987 NCAA championships.

County Republicans meet at South Paris

Newly-elected state legislators Rep. Gary Blackford, House Seat 97, and Rep. Dana Hanley, State 51, addressed the Oxford County Republican Committee Jan. 13 at a well attended dinner meeting in South Paris.

Rep. Blackford stressed the aim for a house and senate majority in 1988 with early candidate recruitment and continuing voter list update. Also present were newly elected Registrar of Probate Ted Tracy and Erin Hovew from the Lewiston office of Senator William Cohen.

Nancy Sutton, county chairwoman, announced that Oxford County was the top county fund raiser for the state. County officers were elected as follows: Tom Marks, vice chairman; Barbara Henderson, vice chairwoman; Richard Welch, secretary; and Carolyn Kennard, treasurer. A county chairman and financial chairman will be elected at the February meeting.

A Lincoln Day Dinner is being planned by Tom Winsor, Mac Wight, Carolyn Kennard, Kathleen Mersereau, Linda Plant, Gertrude Farrar and Barbara Henderson.

Barbara D. Brown, state committee woman, and Al Barth, state committee man, reported new officers of the State Republican Committee are: Karen Stann of Dresden, chairwoman; Kathy Watson of Pittsfield, vice chairwoman; Sherry Nonneman of Portland, secretary; and James Nicholson of Portland, treasurer. Dore Russell of Casine was named.

Volunteers help at WES

Mary Plawlock and Christine Heffley are two of the many volunteers helping teachers at Woodstock Elementary School.

Mrs. Plawlock volunteers each Friday afternoon during Grade One's art period. She helps with preparing materials and assisting the children with their projects.

Mrs. Plawlock and her children are new to the W.E.S. community this year. Her son, Michael, is in third grade; her daughter, Leanna, is in first grade, and her daughter, Sandy, is at Tolstar.

Mrs. Heffley volunteers every other week in Grade Two. She works with the students on computers, and in other activities.

Mrs. Heffley has three children: Scott and Jennifer in Grade Two, and Heidi, still at home.

Mrs. Heffley has been an active volunteer at Woodstock Elementary School, participating in many activities.

Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town Search and Rescue had an excellent response at its open house last week. Game Warden Jim Davis described search techniques and the importance of trained volunteers for monitoring a search.

The auxiliary is planning a roast beef supper for Booster Club members Jan. 31, at the American Legion Hall, in Locke Mills.

Training this month is Jan. 28, at the West Paris fire station, for ambulance and fire personnel to discuss joint fires and accidents. Ben Bacon will lead a training on the use of air packs. Jane Chandler will discuss oxygen therapy for smoke inhalation. Two C.E.U. credits will be offered for attending the session. Any interested fire and rescue personnel are invited.

Safety Tip of the Week:
The appearance of ice on paths or on steps can fool you. It may prove to be very slippery.

Especially for an older person, a slip can mean a broken bone. This can mean hospitalization in addition to crutches and walkers at home. The healing process can take a great deal of time.

A ski pole makes a great cane or support on ice or slippery snow. Also a quadropod is a cane with four feet on the bottom offers greater balance and support than one single rubber tip found at the bottom of most canes.

Maine is a great place to live. And those who choose to stay to enjoy the winter have a variety of ways to stay healthy throughout the season. Sometimes it just takes a few minutes of caution to prevent an accident.
